Subject: Leaks detected and repaired at AllenCo Energy

Hello Agency and Stakeholder Meeting Participants,

Below is text from emails that I received today from CalGEM regarding two leaks at AllenCo Energy's site in University Park, which were repaired on the same day that they were detected (one on April 16 and one on April 23). Thank you to CalGEM for sharing the update. If any other agencies have updates related to these leaks or other happenings related to AllenCo Energy, I would also appreciate any information that can be shared with the group.

Update from CalGEM:

I wanted to let you know that during our inspection at AllenCo Energy's St. James drill site this morning (April 16, 2020), CalGEM field engineers observed a "small" leak at a piping connection to a 90-degree elbow downstream of the casing master valve from well "Saint James" 4 (0403720439). The leak was detected using a FLIR camera. Mr. Tim Parker with AllenCo Energy called back our engineer this afternoon and informed that the leak had been repaired. CalGEM engineers returned to the site (this afternoon) and re-inspected the leaking connection. They could no longer see the leak with the FLIR camera.

During our inspection at AllenCo Energy's St. James drill site yesterday morning (April 23, 2020), CalGEM field engineers observed a "small" leak at the casing valve flange on well "Saint James" 3 (0403706333). The leak was detected using a FLIR camera. Mr. Tim Parker with AllenCo Energy repaired the leak while our engineers were still on site. CalGEM engineers re-inspected the leaking flange and could no longer see the leak with the FLIR camera.

Thank you,

Mandi
